6. General discussion - Canada- A new program has been developed to trace bean products (tofu) back to the producer and original breeding institution. The program is a consumer based tracking program to tell the story of Agriculture and give the product an added value. Participants in the tracking program have been able to charge a premium for the product sold utilizing the program. The consumer can scan a bar code and it will trace the product back through the IP program and seed Certification. The program is a way to help consumers connect with the farmer who grew the food.
7. Other business – there was no other business.
8. Action items – none.
9. Adjourn – meeting adjourned.
